THREE THIEVES ROB A WIDOW.

First Stole a Horse and Buggy to Haul Off Their Booty.

NO ARRESTS MADE.

Drove Into the City and Turned Horse Loose.

Friday night the meat house of Mrs. Bird Mattingly, four miles from the city, on the Russellville pike, was broken open and about 175 pounds of hams stolen.

The thieves first went to Bob Fuller's stable, took out a horse and hitched it to his buggy and drove a short distance to Mrs. Mattingly's and took ten large, fresh hams and hauled them to town. The robbery was committed after the rain for the tracks of the thieves were plainly seen the next morning. There were three men in the crowd as the size of their footprints clearly indicated. After getting into the buggy they drove a short distance up the pike when they turned and came into town. The horse, still attached to the buggy, was found by the police, standing unhitched in front of Fuller's grocery, corner of Fifth and Virginia streets, early Saturday morning. What disposition was made of the hams has not yet been ascertained.

Mrs. Mattingly is the widowed daughter of the late Mr. Larkin Harned, and can ill afford to lose so large a part of her year's supply of meat.

The police were promptly notified of the affair and at once began to ferret out the thieves, but it is probable that they took such precautions to conceal the crime as to keep the officers off their tracks for some time.

STOP SHOOTING.

Saturday is the Last Day For Killing Quail.

Without you have no regard for the Sabbath, tomorrow and Saturday are the last days under the law for killing quail. The crop this year in this section has been unusually large. There has been some talk of getting the legislature to so amend the law that no quail shall be killed for three years. It is thought by some that in three years the birds would multiply to such an extent that there would be plenty for everybody, while others think that they would freeze out during a very severe winter and the third year would not be any better than at the end of the first.

CHRISTMAS TREE.

BIG TRADE ALL ROUND.

Men of Sound Business Judgment Pull in the Shelves.

DO THOU LIKEWISE.

Everybody Follows the Crowd to the Right Place.

The true Christmas spirit is in giving instead of wanting some one else to do the giving. This spirit certainly has been in evidence here. Notwithstanding the most unfavorable weather conditions prevailing a great part of last week our shopkeepers who made judicious use of printer's ink so depleted their stocks that when Christmas day dawned the shelves and counters looked as if there had been a cyclonic visitation. Shelves were empty, goods piled in disorder on the counters, and clerks Saturday night had lost energy and were touched with "that tired feeling" born of several days of unusual physical and mental activity trying to wait on everybody at once.

"Up on the hill" Mr. T. M. Jones probably did the largest business in the history of the oldest strictly dry goods house in the city.

M. D. Kelly, the veteran jeweler, who never misrepresents anything, but stakes his reputation on selling nothing but "the true stuff," has had a patronage that he feels proud of.

W. T. Cooper & Co., with their extra force of clerks, were pushed early and late trying to wait on the people that thronged the store for the past week or more.

It goes without saying that "the Frankel boys" are always at the top notch in their lines of business, and the two large store rooms have been so crowded that the many regular and extra clerks have been kept continually on the run.

J. T. Wall & Co., with their characteristic foresight, selected a stock specially adapted for the Christmas trade. Their business, increasing steadily year after year, has been entirely satisfactory and were glad to "take a day off" Sunday.

Those wide-awake druggists, Cook & Higgins, who always have a good trade, were prepared for the heavy demand that was made on them in the way of Christmas goods. They had the largest sale, perhaps, they have ever enjoyed. Their stock was unusually elegant and consisted of the newest things in their line.

Bassett & Co. likewise longed for a day to rest up. This is one of the places where everybody goes for Christmas presents and their stock of specialties attracted large crowds of buyers.

"Down in the bottom" trade was brisk, especially at J. H. Anderson & Co.'s. The three store rooms were filled with goods when the holiday trade opened up, but not so now. They have been carried off in such quantities that another trip to New York may be necessary at once. Everybody seems to think that everything needed is down "at Anderson's," and went there after it. Councilman Joe Twynian has had but one trouble—he has bought a farm and was so busy selling good things to eat that he did not have time to go and "see how his land lies."

The Anderson & Fowler Drug Co. can boast of the largest trade in the history of their business, and having laid in a large supply of goods suitable for Christmas, they are in high good humor.

There are two houses on Ninth street that have good reason to be happy. The Keach Furniture Co. were rushed packing and delivering goods. So large has their trade been that they have had to enlarge their quarters, and now their store extends from Ninth to Eighth streets. Skarry's jewelry store, just across the street from Keach, enjoyed a large trade. Mr. Skarry prides himself on giving the people what they want and that of the best quality. He does not deal in shoddy stuff.

The Forbes Manufacturing Co.'s volume of business this season has been unprecedentedly large in the holiday line. This firm, anticipating a rush, brought on a stock equal to every requirement and are "feeling good" over their immense sales. The Planters' Hardware Co. have been up to their eyes in waiting on their customers. Every clerk has had all he could do, and the "Planters" is now recognized as one of the leading houses in the city.

All this goes to prove the virtue of printer's ink. If you want to do business, advertise, as the above named firms have done. They are "it," and always will be. The Kentuckian extends its congratulations and wishes them a busier time than ever for the year 1906.

STYING GREASY SEA

TO STOP EATING AWAY OF MAS-SACHUSETTS COAST LINE.

Government Experts at Work Constructing "Sand Catchers" to Prevent the Total Destruction of the End of Cape Cod.

When the mighty forces of nature
combine to rob a man of his heritage, the latter sets his skill and learning to work to stay the relentless destroying hand. There is a heroic battle on at the present time away down Cape Cod, and as to the outcome of the struggle with the mighty and relentless ocean one can only conjecture, but, as human skill has so often conquered nature before, it is more than probable that in this instance the government engineer in charge of the work will be successful. The sand dunes have been repeatedly swept through the sand dunes, and have already made an island of that part of the tip end of Cape Cod between Abol and the Point Light, and where the destruction will stop if something is not done is hard to tell. And not only is the land being swallowed up, but the heading waters are carrying the sand and depositing it in the harbor at that point.

In view of all this the government has a large force of men, under the direction of Edward Atkins, of the United States engineers' office of Boston, constructing "sand catchers" to hold the shifting soil in its place. Ever since the memorable gale of November, 1898, when the sea broke through the beaches at Abol hill, the need of the "sand catchers" has become more and more apparent.

These "sand catchers" are constructed of heavy planking, bolted together and laid in the beach such a way as as to prevent the waters lifting the sands and carrying them off. It is expensive work, even with planking, and already over $5,000 have been expended in the work and only a beginning has been made. The "sand catchers" are placed about 25 feet apart from low water mark to the sand dunes, and along the shore great boxes 50 feet in length of varying width are built and filled with sand. This makes quite a solid bulkhead and the boxes being practically water tight, the sand cannot escape. In speaking of the work, the engineer said that the only permanent way of doing the work was by constructing stone bulkheads.

It seems that the ice of the winter
causes the greatest amount of trouble.
Forning on the shore as it does, it cuts great holes in the beaches when it moves with the tides, and the sea
then continues the work of destruction by boring among the sand dunes and washing them away. The high tides then rush over the beaches, a channel is quickly formed and thou-

ONE OF THE "SAND CATCHERS"

sands of tons of sand are carried to the low land at the harbor beyond and deposited there.

Engineer Atkins is not altogether certain of the wisdom of building the bulkheads of wood, for says he:
"The heavy seas kicked up by the winter gales, together with the great mountains of ice which pile up along the coast, damage the wooden sand catchers considerably. What ought to be built are stone bulkheads."

But historic Cape Cod is not the only coast line which has to fight with the relentless ocean for existence. It seems that Great Britain is constantly suffering from erosion by the sea, and that her island domain is constantly growing less. There is something alarming in the thought, but the statements of engineers and taken hundreds of thousands of years to make any appreciable difference in the coast line is reassuring. Wherever oceans or lakes roll their waters, or rivers flow, there is a steady alteration in the contour of the land. Some years ago the people of the middle lake states, and especially the territory in and about Chicago, were startled by the declaration of some wise man that eventually the waters of Lake Michigan would sweep over its present boundaries and engulf everything before it, for it is declared that there is a gradual tipping of the land in such a way as to raise the far distant future after the present relations of land and lake as to cause the latter to empty its mighty depths upon the land. No
"sand catchers" or stone bulkheads would avail in such a case, which reminds us that notwithstanding the fact that the engineering skill can in large measure overcome and nullify
the destructive forces of giant Nature, still after all man is but puny and helpless before the disintegrations and constant decay of the elements. Man may win temporary victory, only to come face to face with conditions beyond which he is absolutely helpless.

The "sand catchers" along the coast of old Cape Cod may stay the inroads of the ocean for a time, but who can know what changes in the map will be wrought in the century to come?
The geographer of the year 5000 may look at the atlas of to-day and marvel at what he may consider the inaccuracies of the map makers of to-day.
It is so comforting to think that during the present generation at least we shall keep Cape Cod with us.

The Weather.
For Kentucky: Increasing cloudiness and probably rain Thursday.

Judge M. F. Tuley, of Chicago, a native Kentuckian and the oldest jurist in Illinois, died this week.

Gov. La Follette, of Wisconsin has resigned and will take his seat as United States Senator after Jan. 1st.

Nearly a hundred saloonkeepers at Lexington have been indicted for alleged violation of the Sunday closing law.

Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn., will abolish football next year, unless the rules are radically changed.

The engagement of Congressman Swager Sherley, of Louisville, to Miss Mignon Critten, of Staten Island, has been announced.

It is estimated that the Russian revolutionary riots growing out of the strikes have so far caused a property loss of $245,000 and the loss of 96,000 lives.

The revolt at Moscow is now well in hand and seems to be crushed, with most of the leaders under arrest. The army as a rule remained loyal.

Fire destroyed the roof of the Courthouse in Louisville Tuesday, originating from electric wires. The loss exceeds $10,000.

The official count of the vote in the New York mayoralty election was announced Tuesday by the board of Canvassers. McClellan's plurality over Hearst is 3,368.

Mrs. Alfred Wiltse, of Albany, N. Y., is the mother of a three-days-old daughter, which she insists, was born 116 days after she had given birth to a son.

All of the contests at Frankfort will be settled next week, for speaker, senator and prison commissioners. The General Assembly convenes Tuesday and the Senatorial caucus will be held that night.

The Madisonville Hustler announces that it will soon begin the publication of a morning daily, without interfering with its semi-weekly issue. Madisonville has three other weekly papers, Earlington has one and Dawson one, all in Hopkins county.

As the time for the meeting of the Legislature draws near the clans are assembling in Louisville and the contest has opened in earnest. The first test of strength will be on the nomination of a Speaker. Henry Lawrence is the Paynter candidate and R. W. Miller the Blackburn leader. Lawrence will lose four votes in the First district and it now seems assured that Miller will get nearly all of the Louisville votes. With this loss of strength in his stronghold, Lawrence will still be a easy winner by from 10 to 20 majority, unless his managers are woefully off in their calculations.

H. Fyke, Jr., treasurer; G. H. Champin, trustee; W. L. Witty, warden; W. B. Guthrie, I. G.; J. M. Grace, O. G.; E. A. Roper, chaplain; W. H. Lee, conductor; T. E. The newly elected officers invited those present to the banquet hall in the building, where a sumptuous supper was served.

CHILD WAS SHOT.
Brother Shoots at Brother and Wounds His Daughter.

Ransom Manson shot and wounded a child of his brother, Joe Manson, near Kennedy, Sunday. The parties are colored. From what could be learned of the affair it appears that the Manson brothers had not been on very good terms for some time. They met at Joe's house and Ransom fired at Joe, but missed him and hit his little daughter. The child was shot in the back of the head, but it is not thought that she is fatally injured. No arrests have yet been made.

THE CITY BANK
Will Not Get Into New Building as Soon as Contemplated.

It has been evident for some time that the City Bank would not get into its new quarters by the first of January as at first contemplated. By unavoidable delays in finishing the interior it may take another month's work to enable the contractors to complete their job. When it is ready the move will be made in short order, as the officials are anxious to get into the building before the severe winter weather sets in.

ORDERLY CHRISTMAS.
Only Six Arrests by Police in Seven Days.

"It is the unexpected that always happens" is an old proverb and it often proves true. The good order that preceded the holidays was expected to be followed by several arrests for misdemeanors, but such has not been the case. For the seven days ending Thursday night there were only seven arrests. This is, perhaps, the best record for many years.

THE KENTON CLUB
Gave a Dance Last Night and Feasted Afterwards.

The members of the Kenton Club gave a dance last night at their hall in the Cooper building. After enjoying themselves until a late hour the young people went to the Innovation Cafe where they enjoyed a bountiful repast.

NEW BANK.
Directors Will Be Elected Next Tuesday.

As specified in their charter, the stock holders of the Commercial and Savings Bank will meet next Tuesday and elect a board of directors.

The building will not be ready for business earlier than January 15th.

MILLION DOLLAR BABY.
Senator Clark Gives a Fortune to His Latest Grandchild.

San Francisco, Dec. 27.—Another million-dollar baby was born. The little one is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark, who are at San Mateo. As soon as the birth of the child was announced Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, the Grandfather, announced that he would settle $1,000,000 upon her. This is the second demonstration of his now famous custom. Several years ago Senator Clark at the birth of his first grandchild gave it $1,000,000. Since then his son Charles married Miss Celia Tobin of this city, and the daughter born to-day is the result of the union.

The company is to be known as the Herald Printing and Publishing company and is capitalized at $20,000. P. E. A. Van Noy, a printer, is at the head of the concern, and the intention is to try the fate of a negro daily paper in Chattanooga.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.
Neglected Colds Lead to Consumption.

How Consumption Develops.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way: A person catches cold. The cold is not properly cured, and another cold is caught. This cold is duly-colded with, either by no treatment whatever or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues. Then another cold is caught and a cough develops. Cough syrups are resorted to, but they give only temporary relief. By and by the patient gets tired of taking medicines and cough syrups and gives up in despair. The cold continues to develop and the cough grows worse. Then the doctor is called in, only to discover that the patient is in the first stages of consumption.

It was just in this way that Miss Powell, of Aurora, Ind., became sick. She caught a cold, and not considering it serious, neglected it, thinking as many others do, that it would "wear off." However, it clung to her tenaciously, and in two weeks she found her health in a serious condition.

Fortunately, Peruna had been brought to her notice, and she took a course of this remedy before it was too late. In a week the cough and cold were broken, and a three weeks' treatment completely restored her to health. This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour passes in which some one does not have a similar experience with Peruna.

Cure the Slight Colds and Avoid Consumption.

The first step toward consumption is a cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat, then to the bronchial tubes, and finally into the lungs. It is then consumption in the first stage. At any time during the progress of catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease, if you have taken a cold, buy Peruna without delay. One bottle in the beginning will do more good than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

Thousands of Testimonials.

We have on file thousands of testimonials from people who have been cured of catarrh of the lungs by Peruna. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Harman for Peruna.

How Pretty Miss Powell Was Restored to Health by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Lillian Powell, Aurora, Ind., writes: "Last spring I caught a severe cold from getting my feet wet and being out in the rain, and a most miserable cold, but I neglected it, thinking it would soon leave me. But it hung to me for two weeks, when I felt something must be done, as my condition was serious. I had heard so much about Peruna and in its praise that I bought a bottle and began taking it regularly. I was gratified to find that in a week the cold and cough was broken up, and three weeks' treatment completely restored my usual good health."—Lillian Powell.

TWO QUEER CASES.
One Girl Breathes After Death and Another Returns to Life.

New York, Dec. 23.—After being dead apparently for three days, placed in her coffin, and with her friends and relatives ready to take a farewell view of the body before it was buried, Viola Anderson, 17 years old, of Elizabeth, N. J., was found to be in a trance today and was revived. The girl escaped being buried alive by a very small margin.

A neighbor who is a close friend of the family noticed that the body appeared to be slightly warm, although the girl was supposed to have been dead three days. Finally the family physician was sent for and after a thorough examination and severe tests he said the girl was only in a trance. After working over her for several hours the doctor managed to revive the young woman and she began to speak. She expressed surprise at not finding herself in heaven and was horrified when told of her narrow escape from an awful fate.

St. Louis, Dec. 26.—For an hour after Miss Rosa Fischer had been pronounced dead of carbolic acid poisoning at the city dispensary this morning and her heart had ceased to beat she continued breathing spasmodically. Dr. W. L. Lawrence said the breathing was due to reflex spinal action, and though breathing after death is very rare, it is not unknown to medical science. He refused to allow the removal of the body to the morgue until the breathing had ceased.

You can hardly find a home without Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Parents know what it does for children; breaks up a cold in a single night, wards off bronchitis, prevents pneumonia. Physicians advise parents to keep it handy.

Cherry Pectoral

There are ten chartered local unions in this county and a number of members to the national union. Every union is expected to report at the county meeting the first Monday in January.

This Society is closing up the gaps in the wheat belt and is confident of getting members enough to force the price of wheat to one dollar per bushel and make every crop sold off the farm bring a satisfactory price.

A. S. & E. P. S.—Every farmer is invited to attend this meeting.

Throat, Lungs

Ayer's Pills greatly aid the Cherry Pectoral in breaking up a cold.

TWO MISHAPS.

To Nashville and Chicago Limited on I. C.

The I. C. fast passenger train ran into a freight near Brown's, Indiana, and the wreck delayed the train here two hours and a quarter yesterday.

The same train at Gilman ran over a man named Olson and killed him.

Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Meyers, of Carross, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throats, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's drug store, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Eight of the Finest.

The new policemen have received their handsome uniforms and will receive their helmets in a few days. They will soon exhibit such a fine appearance that it will be almost a pleasure to be arrested by one of them.

Shot in the Back.

W. M. Sherman, Cushing, Me., was shot in the back, hourly day and night, for full three months; by the shooting, tearing and racking pains of Kidney Inflammation. He writes: "I used three bottles of Electric Bitters, and know that they have permanently cured me. For I feel like a new man. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all sufferers from kidney trouble." It's just as sure to relieve and cure malaria and all stomach and liver complaints, general debility and female weakness. Guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick, druggist, price 50c.

Grocers Assn.

Messrs. Will E. and Jesse L. Reeves, formerly of this city, but now of Mayfield, where they have been in the grocery business for several months, have filed a deed of assignment. Liabilities $8,000; assets estimated at considerably less.

BIG SALES

Of Tobacco in the Bluff Springs Country.

The Society of Equity farmers in the Bluff Springs vicinity have sold a large quantity of tobacco loose to the Price people at a very satisfactory price, on the plans laid out at the Owensboro convention.

There are ten chartered local unions in this county and a number of members to the national union.

Every union is expected to report at the county meeting the first Monday in January.

This Society is closing up the gaps in the wheat belt and is confident of getting members enough to force the price of wheat to one dollar per bushel and make every crop sold off the farm bring a satisfactory price.

A. S. & E. P. S.—Every farmer is invited to attend this meeting.

MOVING PICTURES.

Prof. Steltzer's moving picture show, which is giving performances at the opera house all this week, beginning at 2:30 p. m., and running until 10:30 at night, is the best of its kind ever seen here. The admission is only 10 cents, and besides the pictures there is good music and pretty illustrated songs. Some of the subjects included in the moving pictures are:

Buffalo Bill's Street Parade and Bucking Bronchos, Britt and Nelson Prize Fight, The Great Train Robbery, Life of an American Fireman, Wrestling Match, Lou Fuller's Butterfly Dance, Gordon Sisters—Boxing, The Lightning Express and Head End Collision, McKinley's Funeral at Washington, Battle of Yalu and Attack on Port Arthur, French Dancing Girls, Bold Bank Robbery, The Whole Damn Family, Indians and Cowboys, and many others.

Boisterous Negroes. Keyed up to a high pitch by having chambered too much mean whiskey, we learn that two or three negroes raised "cain" on the L. & N. No. 61 train going South Monday evening. After leaving Crofton the negroes became quite boisterous and amused themselves by firing their pistols and tearing up a car seat or two. No arrests were made, but our informant says that before reaching Hopkinsville, anticipating that they would be "pulled" by the local police, they jumped from the train before it reached the city.

Card of Thanks.

ACTIVE AND SEVENTY

METTY GREEN STILL MANAGES HER OWN AFFAIRS.

World's Richest Woman Celebrates Birthday at Her Desk—Lays Success to Careful Investments.

Although having passed the allotted threescore-and-ten, Metty Green, without doubt the richest woman in the United States, shows no signs of decline in mental activity. On Tuesday, November 1, occurred the seventieth anniversary of her birth, and she celebrated the day in her usual manner at her residence, the Chemical national bank in New York city.

For 40 years now has this woman been one of the leading characters in American financial world, and by her shrewd management has added really $5,000,000 to the fortune of $5,000,000 left her by her father in 1867. Today her property is of many sorts and her real estate holdings fairly freckle the face of the country. Octopuslike her mortgages embrace some of the safest and soundest properties in a chain of cities extending from Boston to San Francisco, and the income therefrom flows toward her from every national section and corner between Maine and Texas. Railroad and steamboat, mines of copper in Michigan, of gold in Nevada, and of iron in Missouri and Pennsylvania, telegraph and telephone securities, her wealth covers all sorts and conditions of gilt-edged dividend-paying investments. She has, by her own genius and energy, secured a vast and valuable fabric, of which every strand is known to her and numbered as proverbially as are the hairs of the human head.

Yet she is as prudent in a living strand after strand in piling dollar upon dollar, as when she began, on the death of her father.

The 70 years rest lightly upon Metty Green, and she has no intention of retiring from active business so late in life to come. Business has become a habit with her. Numerous litigations have sharpened her wit, and she is to-day more than ever capable of managing her own affairs. Perhaps the smallest suit she ever defended grew out of a summons for her to appear in court and show cause why she should not pay a two-dollar tax on a favorite dog.

She evaded service for quite a time and eventually the case was taken out for the bethelmeet in the name of an only daughter, Miss Sylvia Green, the other child being a son, Edward Green, in Texas.

Metty Green is a strong, forceful woman—a type that probably no other country could have produced, just as it required an overripe civilization to produce an Ism. The American spirit of independence is incarnate in her—keen, self-reliant, capable.

It is significant that she has no pronounced views about equal suffrage, although she has no intention of retiring from active business so late in life to come.

NOTICE.

Season Ticket Holders To Tabernacle

It has been thought best to go back to our last season's system of reserving last season's tickets, and prices have been given to all those who have not had their tickets reserved for the entire season, that the diagram will be on display, Friday morning, Dec. 29th, at 9 o'clock, at the Anderson Fowler Drug Co. This only applies to those who have not had their tickets reserved already for the season. We think that the system we have used this year, the best, however, lots of our patrons seem to think it too much trouble to reserve for every entertainment, so to please all as near as possible, we will return to the old manner of reserving, and on the above date reserve, the rows of seats that have been left open. Please tell your friends, that no one may be able to say that due notice was not given. Remember the date, Friday morning, Dec. 29th, at 9 o'clock. Next week we will have two—(2) course attractions. We cannot help the matter as the date was changed, by the bureau, and having promised certain numbers, we propose to give them, otherwise we would cancel the contract. Course No. 4, Wednesday night, Jan. 3rd, Laurant Course, attraction No. 5, Friday night, Jan. 5th, Rose Crane.

These are two of the best numbers on the entire course, and we hope you will not miss them. Respectfully Submitted, H. L. McPherson, Sec'y and Treas.

WHY BUCK'S HOT BLAST

Heater Will Actually Pay For Itself.

Because Buck's Hot Blast will produce as much heat and as satisfactory a fire in every way, by using the cheapest dollar and a quarter coal, slack or screenings, as other heaters in which you must use high grade soft coal or hard coal. You can see at a glance how soon this saving in fuel will make a Buck's Hot Blast actually pay for itself. It is not the first cost of stove that counts so much, it is what you have to pay to feed it, in coal.

This is the "Buck's Stove."

OBJECTION TO CATS

STORY SHOWING THEIR CRUEL AND FAITHLESS NATURE.

Dread Carriers of Disease—No Power of Affection—Must Be Driven from House of the Dead.

Most of my readers already know my personal attitude toward cats, and I shall not repeat my own grievances against these comfort-loving, fawning, treacherous beasts. But for years I have been collecting the evidence of accurate people against them, and a little of this I will give. Much of it is too horrible for newspaper publication. From an number of physicians of high standing, I have testimony concerning the danger of cats as carriers of disease, and one famous throat specialist assures me that in cases of diphtheria it is sometimes necessary to kill the cats by wholesale.

But to my mind there are much stronger objections to the cat than this. A story told me by a United States army officer of how, in a camp on the plains of Texas, he and a brother officer fought through a long summer night to prevent a horde of cats from devouring the dead body of an infant, is more than matched by the following ghastly but dramatic account given me by Charles I. Rice, one of the best-known men of Worcester, Mass.:

"Up to my eighteenth year, my home was in the country, on a farm. The nearest neighbors lived about a quarter of a mile distant, and the family consisted of two unmarried brothers who, save for a number of cats, were the sole occupants of the house. I was an occasional visitor at this house, and used to see the cats feeding bountifully when the milk was brought fresh from the cows and distributed to their different dishes.

"In return, these cats manifested all the affection for their master (the elder of the two men) which is possible for their kind. They rubbed their side against his legs, or purred contentedly in his lap as he read his 'Massachusetts Ploughman.' They crawled into his bed for warmth in the winter, and he, lacking the companionship of a family, loved and cared for them.

"One night, when the October moon was at its best, this man, in the absence of his younger brother, was attacked by a cat, and he sat on a sofa between them with the mutilated body of my old friend lying on an improvised table at a distance of about four or five feet from the windows. The novelty of the situation caused me a little uneasiness at first, and I gathered and laid within reach two or three weapons, including the fatal ax. Presently I heard a low caterwaul just outside the window, and visions of these pets mourning over their dead master passed before my mental sight.

"These romantic revivies were rudely shattered by a mad rush. In through the windows sprang five bristling, fawning incarnations of hell's most fiendish spirits. Three pounced upon the body of their late beloved (?) master, fairly clawing one another in their fury to get at the head and neck, the seat of the worst mutilation. Of the other two, one devoted his attention to getting shreds from a saw which had been used by the physician, while the other proceeded to lick blood from cracks of the floor.

"This was a time for action, but no sooner was the room cleared than in through a window or door (I could not bring myself to close them) would dash a cat, which, driven out at one place, sought another entrance. For about an hour, stick in hand, I was obliged to fight the brutes.

"It is quite unnecessary for anyone to explain that the cat is not to blame, either because it is a carrier of disease or because it is carnivorous in its habits of course it isn't. Neither is a rattlesnake to blame for injecting deadly venom into one's blood, but that is no excuse for going to bed with a rattlesnake. It is not a question of blame, it is a question of fact, and it seems to be a fact that, in spite of the cat's admitted value as a destroyer of rats and mice, it is a constant menace to health, a source of dreadful anxiety to those who are so unfortunate as to have death in the house, and at all times a cruel and deadly enemy of every songbird which seeks our companionship or our hospitality.

BEHIND THE BARS.

Splendid Meeting Held With Prisoners at Eddyville.

The following persons went down to Eddyville Christmas day and held religious services in the penitentiary: Mesdames Armistead and Duke, Misses Lucy Starling and Bertie Stowe, Drs. A. P. Lyon and J. L. Wyatt, and Messrs. Chas. Anderson, C. G. Duke, A. M. Wallis and Lyne Starling. The service lasted for over three hours and was probably the most fruitful of results ever held, several making profession of Christ. Every prisoner received a Christmas present and one hundred Testaments were furnished to those who could read. More could have been given if the visitors had been furnished with them. Warden Hagerman's wife entertained the visitors in the most hospitable manner and Asst. Warden Olive generously aided the visitors in their work. There are now about 300 white and 400 black prisoners at the Eddyville penitentiary, all of whom show fine keeping.
